Inside the Mary Quant exhibition and dinner

4.30pm Friday 15th November 2019

Join us for a 'quant' evening with a twist!

On Friday 15th November, the WCA social committee are organising a very fashionable event at the V&A Museum.

We will begin with a private talk at the Mary Quant Exhibition, followed by a visit around the exhibition to explore her works further. This will then be rounded off with a meal at Scoff and Banter in nearby Kensington.

From mini-skirts to vibrant tights and makeup, discover how Mary Quant launched a fashion revolution on the British high street, with over 200 garments and accessories, including unseen pieces from the designer's personal archive.

The exhibition, featuring clothing, accessories, cosmetics and other paraphernalia created by the fashion designer between 1955 and 1975, is an uplifting blast of the Swinging Sixties colour, energy and enthusiasm.
